Beautiful Bathroom, Lisbon

Lisbon, Portugal

This project consists in one single bathroom and in the care and combination of 2 different marbles and materials like inox. The natural stone is Red Travertine and Crema Marfil. The result is outstanding.

Architect for profession, this client drew her bathroom at her own taste and measure. Our help was important the time of measuring and suppling the cut-to-size pieces.

The most visible material of the area is Red Travertine, a travertine of an unique tonality always available at our warehouse, and all the other materials (glass, inox, ecc) were perfectly combined with the main one.
