

Traditional Kitchen in Lapa

Lisbon, Portugal

The apartment is located in Lapa district, center of Lisbon, and the 12 windows façade that belong to it give us an idea of the good taste that one can find inside.

The combination with the ancient existing hand-made-ceramic was part of the briefing as well as the willing to maintain the original architectural important views of the house.

The Portugueses marble Lioz St. Florient in its pink hue was chosen for the kitchen floor and countertops.

At the end of the job, an elegant final touch for the lobby: a white side-board in Thassos White with the profiled edges.
