

Elegance in Marble and Onyx

Oeiras, Portugal

A house that bet on classic elegance in the living spaces and exotic boldness in the most intimate spaces.

The exotic explosion takes place in the bathrooms (social and ensuite): countertops with integrated washbasins in Onyx White, this variety of natural stone whose veins look like petrified live flames.

For the flooring of the rooms, entrance hall and corridors, the elegant and smooth Crema Marfil marble was chosen (extra selection and polished finish). The touch of class is announced by the Emperador Dark marble strip that runs through all these spaces and on the fireplace bench.

The stairs were made in Crema Marfil, equally polished.
