

Marbles and Travertine in Bathrooms and Kitchen

Estoril, Portugal

In this project, Portuguese and imported material were requested from us: Portuguese marble Rosa Aurora Light and Ruivina on the one hand, Walnut Travertine and Bianco Carrara marble on the other.

The kitchen takes the polished Ruivina for the floor, countertop and backsplash. Emphasis on the lowering and tearing of the drainer made in the marble itself, for a greater unity of the set.

The bathrooms have very different personalities: one in the warm tones of Walnut Travertine (floor, walls, top and shower tray) and the second more classic, in Ruivina, for floors, baseboards and top. This one looks like a massive piece thanks to the ingenuity of our team. To the tone of the dark gray marble is added a wall in Bianco Carrara that gives an exquisite touch to the space.

For the entrance hall, a color game was created between the Portuguese marble Rosa Aurora Light and the dark gray Ruivina, both polished.
